

UT Concerto Competition 2022

Solo with the Symphony!

UT School of Music full-time students currently enrolled in applied lessons are eligible for this juried competition for a solo instrumentalist or vocalist to perform with the University of Tennessee Symphony Orchestra.

Friday, January 21, 2022 - deadline to return completed application

Thursday, January 27, 2022, 1:10-2:25pm - Concerto Competition Preliminaries

Sunday, January 30, 2022, 3:00pm - Concerto Competition Finals

Sunday, March 6, 2022, 4:00pm - "Concertos and Classics"
Concerto Competition Concert

UT Concerto Competition 2022 Guidelines

APPLICATIONS

- Applications must be submitted by JANUARY 21st, by 5:00pm. Applications submitted after that date WILL NOT BE ACCEPTED.
- The application MUST be physically signed by your applied instructor. No exceptions.
- The application can be
 - Scanned in PDF or hi-resolution picture/image to jfellenbaum@utk.edu
 - Dropped off at the Main Office on/before January 21st, by 5:00pm

ACCOMPANISTS

- All Concerto Competition applicants must be accompanied by a pianist for both the preliminaries and finals.
- Each contestant is required to provide his/her own accompanist for the audition and must pay the accompanist's fee by January 27.

ENTRANTS

- Only currently enrolled, full-time UT students studying with an applied faculty member in the UT School of Music may enter the competition.
- Each entrant may enter only ONCE in the competition.

MUSIC

- A single movement from a concerto for instrumental soloist(s) and orchestra, or single movement/aria for voice(s) and orchestra. There is no time limit on a single selection that has a clear ending (i.e.: one that does not segue to another movement). This category also includes complete works with self-contained multiple parts, like Introduction and Rondo Capriccioso, Psalm and Fugue, Theme and Variations, or Recitative and Aria, for example.
- Any piece for instrument/voice and orchestra with multiple movements or sections, totaling no more than 12 minutes. Multiple concerto movements, song cycles/song collections, suites, for example.
- Orchestral parts must be readily available for purchase (MUCH preferred) or rental.
- Please address questions concerning suitability of repertoire in advance with Professor James Fellenbaum: jfellenbaum@utk.edu

COMPETITION

- Auditions schedule will be EMAILED by January 25. It is your responsibility to note the time of your performance, and confirm with your accompanist.
- Concerto Competition Preliminaries will be held on January 27 during solo class time (1:10-2:25pm) in various locations in the Natalie L. Haslam Music Center. These will be coordinated and announced by area: keyboard, instrumental, string, and vocal.
- Concerto Competition Finals will be held on January 30 on the James R. Cox Stage, beginning at 3:00pm. Please check in at the second floor registration table 15 minutes prior to your scheduled audition time.
- Please provide TWO photocopies of the musical score with measure numbers marked every 10 measures, for both the Preliminaries and Finals.
- The Finals jury consists of professionals representing string, instrumental, keyboard, and vocal areas. The jury has the right to hear the entrants' selection in its entirety, or to stop the performer at any time. The decision of the jury is final. Results will be emailed by Monday, January 31, 2022 (evening) to all entrants.
- Winners must be available for rehearsals with the University of Tennessee Symphony Orchestra a minimum of 2 rehearsal weeks prior to the concert date: MWF, 2:05-4:00pm.

UT Concerto Competition 2022 Application

Name _____

Instrument/Voice Type _____

Year in School _____

Audition Piece/Movement _____

Composer _____

EXACT Duration of Audition Piece/Movement _____

Applicant cell phone _____

Applicant email _____

Accompanist _____

Accompanist email _____

Thursday, January 27

Any time restrictions of accompanist? _____

Is accompanist available BEYOND the 1:10-2:25pm time? Yes No

Sunday, January 30

Any time restrictions of accompanist? _____

Finals begin at 3:00pm, and generally last until 6:00pm.

Printed name of applied faculty instructor (required)

Signature of applied faculty instructor (required)